ITALIANS HOLDING FOE
AND EXTENDING GAINS

Fierce Austrian Attacks Repulsed With Severe Losses South of Asiago.

ROME, June 8.—Not only are Italians holding the Austrians in check, but have extended their gains along the Tyrolean battle front, according to the latest official statement, which reads:
"In the upper Valtellina (northwest of Trent) our Alpine troops have extended their captured ground on the Ortler Alps by occupying the passes Camosel, altitude 3,199 meters; Volon-tari, 3,042 meters; Ortler, 3,359 meters, and the Hotel of Hochjoch, 3,530 meters.

"In the Chiese valley the enemy attacked our post at Scorzade, above Daone. We counter attacked and dispersed the attackers.

Enemy Is Dispersed.
"In the Adige valley there was an artillery duel. The enemy Wednesday with heavy guns bombarded our positions south of Rio Cameras and on Pasebio. Our artillery dispersed enemy concentrations north of Marco, in the Lagarina valley and at Vallarna, and also effectively shelled enemy batteries at Pozzaccio.

"On the Posina-Antico front there was fierce fighting. The enemy Wednesday attacked our positions on the whole front. The evening of the 6th, after several artillery exchanges, the enemy repeatedly attacked our positions southwest and south of Asiago. The engagement continued desperately throughout the night, and ended in the morning with the defeat of the attacking columns.

Renews Violent Effort.
"Wednesday afternoon the enemy renewed his violent efforts against the center and right wing of our line, following his customary bombardment.
Thick masses of infantry were repeatedly hurled to attack our positions south of Asiago and east of the Campomonte valley, but every time they were repulsed with enormous losses."

CRUISER ELBING LOST,
GERMANY CONFESSES

Vessel Blown Up After Collision,
According to Admiralty Statement.

BERLIN, June 8.—The German admirality has announced the loss of the modern small cruiser Elbing. This vessel, the statement says, was in collision with another German warship and was lost in the battle of May 31. Her captain could not bring the Elbing into port and she was blown up after the crew had been taken off.

Estimated German Losses.
LONDON, June 9.—A naval officer of high rank who has just returned from a visit to the battle cruiser fleet informed the Associated Press today that participants in the battle estimate the total German losses as follows:

Two battle cruisers, three battleships, six light cruisers, eight or nine destroyers and one submarine.

This officer said he was convinced from the evidence he had obtained that the unidentified battle cruiser said to have been sunk was the Hindenburg.

Men in Splendid Fettle.
"It is a tonic to visit Beatty's battle cruiser fleet, from which I have just returned," the officer said.

"The officers and men are in splendid fettle. Instead of feeling depressed, they are inclined to feel sorry for the poor Germans. It is impossible to speak too highly of the officers and men of our destroyers, who were simply wonderful. They consistently held the upper hand in the greatest battle ever engaged in by these little war craft."
